The Company shall establish an effective internal control system in regard to its own and its related parties, including affiliated enterprises, overall operational activities, and shall continue to review the system in order to adapt to changes in the internal and external environment and ensure that the system's design and operation remain effective.

The Company shall ensure that any subsidiary develops an effective internal control system, taking into account the laws and regulations of the jurisdiction in which the subsidiary is located and the nature of its operations. For any related party that is not a public company, the Company shall still, in consideration of the degree of influence it has on the Company's business and finances, require that it develop effective systems for internal control and for managing financial, business, and accounting matters.

Article 5

In addition to implementing the adopted internal control system, the Company shall pay close attention to the following matters when exercising supervision over the operation and management of its affiliated enterprises:

For any irregularity that may be found, the supervisor assigned to the affiliate shall ascertain the cause, compile a record, and report to the chairman or president of the Company.

With respect to an affiliated enterprise with which it has financial and business interactions, the Company shall especially maintain close control over material financial and business items for the purpose of risk management.

Article 9

The pricing, terms of a transaction, and its formal and substantive nature and the related handling procedures for any business interaction between the Company and any related party shall not differ markedly from those of a normal transaction with a non-related party, nor may they be obviously unreasonable.

Except in special circumstances, or given advantageous conditions that differ from those of ordinary suppliers, under which the granting of preferential pricing or terms of payment can be reasonably stipulated, any other prices and payment terms shall comply with normal business practices.

Except in cases of long-term cooperation or other special factors that are different from ordinary clients, under which reasonable stipulations may be made to grant preferential pricing or terms of payment, any other prices and payment terms shall comply with normal business practices.

For professional or technical services provided between the Company and a related party, both parties shall enter into a contract stipulating the scope of the services, fees charged, time period, payment terms, and after-sales service. The contract shall be implemented after approval by president or chairman of the Company, and all contract terms and conditions shall comply with normal business practices.

Article 9-1

If the Company engages in transactions with related parties involving purchases or sales of goods, professional services, or technical services, and the annual transaction amount is expected to reach five percent of the Company's most recent consolidated total assets or most recent annual consolidated net revenue, except as stipulated by the Regulations Governing the Acquisition and Disposal of Assets by Public Companies, or except for transactions between the Company and its parent company, subsidiaries, or between its subsidiaries, the following information shall be submitted for approval by the board of directors before conducting such transactions:

Specific opinions by independent directors expressing assent or dissent, and the reasons for dissent, shall be included in the minutes of board meetings.

When a director himself/herself or the legal entity represented by a director is an interested party with respect to a particular agenda item, that director shall enter into recusal and may neither vote on that item nor exercise voting rights as proxy for another director. Directors shall maintain self-discipline among themselves and may not enter into relationships of inappropriate mutual support with other directors.

When a director's spouse, relatives within second degree of consanguinity, or companies in which a director has a controlling or subordinate relationship have a vested interest in the agenda item referred to in the preceding paragraph, the director shall be deemed to have his or her own interest in the matter.
